To JOHN S. HOFFERTY—

for his versatility in and out of the classroom

for his enthusiasm and energy in manifold school activities for his sympathetic understanding of boys and girls

this book is affectionately dedicated by the Class of 1942

JOHN S. HOFFERTY

JAMES S. COLLINS

Preparedness! Preparedness! Preparedness! Are we prepared to meet the stern and grim realities which confront us today? Are we adjusting our lives to meet the emergencies before us? We are. North Quincy High in its entirety is responding and expresses the hope to the Class of 1942 that its members will always carry through with zeal and ambition.

I suggest that your yearbook be accepted as a symbol of the connecting link between the preparedness of school days and the opportunities ahead. May these challenging forces be accepted and bring glory in the realization of work well done.

Be prepared!

Student Council

The North Quincy High Student Council, reflecting as usual student opinion and trends, enjoyed a most successful school year. The 1941–42 officers were Theodore Walter, president; Janet Fratus, vice-president; Phillip Hirtle, treasurer; and Dorothy Burns, secretary. Miss Harriet Fogg was again the faculty adviser to this group.

As usual, the council this year sponsored several instructive and entertaining assemblies, ran a a highly enjoyable dance, a moving picture show, and a party open to members of all school service organizations, conducted a paper drive for the dual purpose of aiding National Defense and beautifying the gymnasium, and instituted a new method of conducting class elections which should do much in aiding the teaching of democracy in a highly practical and sensible way. Truly representative and ever helpful, the Council remains the outstanding student organization.

National Honor Society

It is in the spring time of the year that those who have earned recognition or distinction in their school work receive acknowledgment for their accomplishments. In institutions of higher learning throughout the country, honors are awarded students having high scholarship and outstanding characters.

And so here at North, there is the National Honor Society. A few selected juniors and seniors, standing in the first third of their class scholastically, and outstanding in character, leadership, and service, are inducted into the society in an impressive ceremony, which concludes with the presentation of a gold pin of honor to each member.

Although the society is a purely honorary body, it does strive, under the adviser, Mr. Frank MacDonald, to contribute to the activities and welfare of the school in any way possible.

1941–42 officers of the society: Robert Leader, president; Jean Finlay, vice-president; June Miller, secretary; and Joseph Meehan, treasurer.

Glee Club

Among the musical organizations at North which render enjoyment and also service is a most important one—the Glee Club. This year, under the direction of Miss Ruth Christman, club members gave the Christmas assembly, as well as the Thanksgiving and Christmas broadcasts. At the annual concert with the combined glee clubs of the city, the Glee Club presented "Faust," and an American Ballad, "I Hear America Singing." Seniors who have taken a prominent part in affairs of this organization are James Harvey, Virginia Blair, Sherrard McKenzie, Warren Corse, and Ray Stankus. Dorothy Deininger was pianist and vocal soloist.

The officers for 1941–42 were: George Martin, president; Gloria Glidden, vice-president; Muriel Chandler, secretary; and Shirley Morrow, treasurer.

Band

The North Quincy High School band can chalk up another successful and eventful season to its credit, due to its own efforts and the able direction of Miss Ruth Christman. Again the members have added their talents collectively to form the colorful, snappy background for the football games. And once more the student body is proud of the fine showmanship the band displayed out there on the field between the halves.

Assemblies throughout the year were made more interesting by the presence and music of the school band, and all this led up to the musical climax of the year on April 10, the annual Band Concert. At this gala event the Senior Band, in cooperation with the Junior Band, String Ensemble, Glee Club, and Quincy High School Band, presented what was probably the finest musical entertainment of the season to a large and appreciative audience.

The officers of this lively organization are: Harvey Humphrey, president; Priscilla Smith, vice president; Gerard Schaefer, treasurer; Bryant Carter, business manager.

String Ensemble

The String Ensemble, under the leadership of Miss Ruth Christman, has been busy all year entertaining at P. T. A. meetings and women's clubs in Quincy. This group also joined with the North Band in presenting the annual Spring Concert given on May twenty-first.

The Ensemble is ably headed by Gwen Bowes, concert mistress.

Although this musical organization is not as well known among the pupils as the band or orchestra, good-will toward North is built up by these music-makers as they journey throughout the city captivating audiences with their playing.

Library Staff

As in the past years the Library Staff under the able direction of Miss Elizabeth Sherman, was one of North's most popular and essential service organizations. The officers for this year were Mary E. O'Brien, president; Polly Hanson, vice-president; Patricia Waite, secretary; and Josephine Fraumeni, treasurer. In fulfilling their many duties as library assistants, the girls spent a total of fifty-four hours per week working in the library. This included fifty-four school periods, plus ten periods before school and twenty periods after school.

With Pauline Bonfigli acting as general chairman, the Mothers' Tea, which has become a tradition with the Library Staff, was the highlight of the year in a social way.

The fine spirit of camaraderie and the close-knit cooperation developed among the girls of the Library Staff are what make membership in this group highly desirable.

Tri-Hi-Y Club

The Tri-Hi-Y Club is the companion club of the Hi-Y. Membership during the past year included 48 girls of the senior unit. Meetings were held weekly during the year alternating between the school and Quincy "Y". Miss Frances Allbright and Mr. James Hardy were sponsors of the club, ably assisted by the officers—Doris Campbell, president; Ruth Rupprecht, vice-president; Jane Kates, secretary; Leonie Gavin, treasurer.

The outstanding event of the year was the annual Mothers' Night, at which an induction of new members took place. Of great interest to the girls during this past year were the many valuable talks given them at their meetings.

Hi-Y Club

Under the guidance of Mr. James Hardy of the Y. M. C. A., the Hi-Y Club enjoyed another successful year at North. As usual this well-known service organization proved particularly helpful in the Thanksgiving and Christmas welfare work. Business meetings were held in the school, and meetings at the "Y" provided many educational and social advantages to members.

Probably the most important event of the year for all club members was the annual banquet, planned and successfully carried out under the direction of the officers for 1941–42, who were Ross Connors, president; Jack Carroll, vice-president; Paul Stewart, secretary; and Walter Roach, treasurer.

Motion Picture Operators' Club

Among the clubs at North which strive to help both teachers and pupils in various ways is the Motion Picture Operators' Club. This is a service organization which furnishes skillful operators of the Sound and Projection equipment for teachers and clubs, for entertainment, and educational purposes.

Russell Smallman, president; Pearl Grant, vice-president; Milton Sylvia, secretary-treasurer; and other members of the club, under the guidance of Mr. Fred Christiansen, worked hard to make this year the success it has been.

Presented to the school this year was a new projection screen, and plans were formulated and set in motion to provide for the use of the school a film slide, miniature slide projector, and several classroom screens.

With an organization of this type, North is assured of continued progress in the field of visual education and photographic entertainment.

C. D. Club

The North Quincy C. D. Club is a part of the National Organization of Future Teachers of America. Miss Mable Pratt is its very able faculty sponsor, and officers for 1941–42 were Joseph Meehan, president; Grace McKinlay, vice-president; Sherrard MacKenzie, treasurer; and Natalie Johnson, secretary. The mistress of ceremonies elected for the year was Barbara Adams.

The club's two big projects this year have been the organizing of the Social Studies Laboratory and the planning of Education Week activities. Carrying on the custom begun last year, the club raised money for medals to be presented at graduation to the highest ranking girl and boy in the senior class.

Social activities during the past year included an Alumni party at Christmas, a club dinner, a theater party, trips to educational institutions, and a spring outing.

Cafeteria Squad

Something new has been added! This time that old, familiar phrase does not represent some new vitamin or chemical discovery. No, it introduces the new cafeteria plan so successfully carried out at North this year.

Under the new scheme, every student in the building was given an opportunity to do his bit in helping to keep North's dining room clean and pleasant. Each month six different homerooms, two for each lunch period, were appointed to assist the permanent cafeteria squad. Before the new squads started work, they were addressed by a member of the Speakers' Bureau of the Cafeteria Squad, who in turn introduced the members of the permanent squad. Members of this Bureau, which was under the chairmanship of John Meskill, were Grace McKinlay, Herbert Wheeler, Walter Fultz, Robert Thompson, and Patricia Waite. The permanent squad seniors were Grace McKinlay, John Meskill, Robert Thompson, Herbert Wheeler, Walter Fultz, Patricia Waite, Marion King, Barbara Westhaver and George Wallace.

Traffic Squad

Did you ever see anyone driving on the wrong side of the road, or speeding down the wrong way of a one-way street? Well, if you did, you no doubt saw an alert city policeman stop that careless person and either warn him or impose a penalty upon him. That is why North has alert, efficient traffic officers posted at all one-way avenues and rotary intersections—to stop those careless persons who pay not the slightest attention to which way they should go and which way they do go. There are four traffic captains at North, one for each floor. These captains, John Meskill, Theodore Walter, Phillip Hirtle, and Patricia Waite, are aided by traffic officers in keeping North's thoroughfares clear and free from all traffic jams. The squads, cooperating with the teachers appointed to each floor, produce a smooth, efficient traffic system.

Pupils selected for traffic duty are chosen from the junior and senior classes on the basis of capability, reliability, character, and scholarship.

Student Secretarial Staff

The Student Secretarial Staff is comprised of senior girls in the Commercial course, who are willing to devote free time to assisting members of North's faculty. The purpose of the work is twofold: first, to give the girls practical business experience, and second, to be of service to the school.

Each girl is assigned as a secretary to a teacher, and it is her duty to perform the tasks which the assigned teacher may have for her. These tasks include clerical and stenographic duties, such as filing, taking dictation, typing, and running duplicate copies on the Mimeograph and Ditto. Secretaries are also assigned as afternoon assistants to the principals of the Quincy, Squantum, Montclair, and Wollaston schools.

The staff will certainly be missed when June comes, as they have done creditable work. North Quincy High is to be commended for giving the Senior commercial girls the opportunity to profit from this valuable experience.

Bowling Club

The Bowling Club, under the direction of Mr. Julius Sylvia, meets every Wednesday, Thurdsay, and Friday at the Norfolk Bowling Alley. This year the total membership, including boys and girls, was about 180. Mr. Walter Warriner had charge of the boys. In past years the club has participated in tournaments and competitions, and it also held an outing at Nantasket at the end of each season, but this year, due to present war conditions, such plans were curtailed.

Outstanding senior bowlers were David MacKinnell with a high three string score of 325, Shirley Jackson with a high three string score of 318, and Miriam Harding with a high single string score of 120.

The popularity of this activity is evidenced by the fact that the membership of the club seldom decreases and the enthusiasm of the bowlers continues throughout the entire season.

Senior Class Play

The Senior Class Play, Tons of Money, under the direction of Mr. John S. Hofferty, was easily the high-light of the winter social season. Jimmie Spillane, the hero of the piece, had the audience roaring at his antics. Kleanth Dusopol was the beauteous blonde heroine and June Miller, dark and dangerous, was a tender, forgiving wife to three husbands. Virginia Blair, in her role of the spinster aunt, was outstanding, and Patricia Waite as a Cockney parlour-maid, Walter Fultz as an English butler, and Joseph Meehan as the gardener did much to evoke mirth from the overflow audience. Paul Sweetser as the solicitor and Wilton Hayes and Sherrard McKenzie in their dual roles helped to complicate matters.

Lillian Carroll worked hard and faithfully as prompter, and the all-important back-stage work was handled by Frank Reardon, Mildred Royce, Virginia Gleason, Robert Leader, Ross Connor, William Martinez, and Herbert Olson.

Girls' Club

The Girls' Club has had its usual busy year. Besides the traditional activities the club has tried several experiments. During the winter months the auditorium was kept open during all three recesses. Miriam Harding, Patricia Waite, Lois Stimart and Lillian Carroll were overseers. However, they admit that the assistance of Mr. MacDonald and the twelfth grade boys was invaluable. Jean Finlay, with the help of Miss Connick and Mrs. Ford, has been supervising a Red Cross class in knitting. From this class has come one large afghan and many knitted garments for the boys in Service. Three interesting lecturers have been brought to the school through the club. The annual dance, held for the first time in the gym, was voted the best yet. The officers of the club are: Janet Gibson, president; Marie Vann, vice president; Ruth Casey, secretary; Priscilla Kelley, treasurer. The Executive Board consists of Carol Dickinson, Lillian Caroll, June Miller, Corinne Herstad, Josephine Fraumeni, Priscilla Harris, Marjorie O'Hearn, Lorraine Dolliver, Marjorie Leach. Special mention should be made of the club artist, Louise Lundin, and of Josephine Puopolo, Elizabeth Owen, Lois Phillip, Louise Gould and Barbara Westhaver.

Manet Staff

Members of the Manet staff have worked long and faithfully to make the 1942 yearbook a success. Under the guidance of Mr. Joseph G. Foy and Mr. John S. Hofferty of the faculty the present issue of the annual publication finally came into being.

Of the editorial staff particular mention should be made of Walter Fultz, Muriel Harding, Jane Kates, Donald Murray, Jean Rodgers, Letitia Cresswell, Dorothy Deininger, Virginia Blair, Joseph Meehan, Mildred Royce, Patricia Waite, Roberta Perry, Jack Meskill, Mary Casey, Donna Wilkins, James Spillane, and Ruth Casey. Leonie Gavin, Mary E. O'Brien, Genevieve Murray, and Irene Oulette made up a willing and efficient secretarial staff. Robert Leader, Louise Lundin, Ernest Reynolds, Edward Norton, and Kenneth Turner, under the able guidance of Miss Margaret White, produced the necessary art work. The all-important business staff included Donald Murray, Marie Hall, Phyllis LaPlante, Joan McCausland, Josephine Puopolo, Rhea Hogan, John Knight, and Barbara Ann Russell. Russell Smallman and Victor Tose headed the camera corps.

Junior Class

The North Quincy class of 1943 enjoyed an interesting Junior year under the energetic leadership of the following officers: Walter Montgomery, president; Gertrude Collins, vice president; Eugene Kelly, treasurer; and Jean Fratus, secretary. The Juniors backed up the Student Council to aid in putting across the moving picture "Slalom."

The big event of the year, as far as the Junior class was concerned, was the big dance in June, called "Sophisticated Swing." This gala event in the spring social life of the eleventh graders was one of the most successful Junior Affairs in years. Next year should find the present Juniors ably filling the places of the departing Senior class.

Auditorium Recreation at Recess

It has often been said that women think of everything. This has certainly appeared true enough this year at North, for the Girls' Club, under the supervision of Miss Ethel Crockett arranged to have the auditorium open to students after lunch on winter days when it was too cold to go outside. Clever programs were arranged for the enjoyment of the students by a program committee consisting of three seniors: Miriam Harding, Patricia Waite and John Foran. The main attraction was the musical talent supplied by a four piece orchestra made up of pianist Howard Millard, saxaphonist George De Wolf, trumpeter Jack Foran, and drummer Harvey Humphrey, with vocalist Earl Waters. Dancing was arranged by Miriam Harding. Lois Stimart and Paul Couillard headed the patrol squad, or the "Gestapo" as it was nicknamed, whose duty it was to check up on clutter, maintain order, prevent crowding, and anticipate other innumerable student vagaries.

Football

The North football season of 1941 was not the most successful in North's history as regards wins and losses, but the football squad this past year will probably remain for some time in the memories of Red and Black grid enthusiasts. For despite an epidemic of injuries, the like of which has never before been seen at North, the boys fought on courageously, led by tenacious Captain Bob Johnson, and guided by coach Jack Donahue and assistant coach John Mullarkey.

Standout on this year's eleven was big Jack Kerrigan, All-South Shore and All-Scholastic tackle, who played a terrific game all year and shone brightly even throughout the Weymouth and Quincy debacles. Other standouts in the line were Guy Capilli, Ernie Reynolds, Paul O'Brien, Bob Johnson, Al Ela, Jack Hendrick, sophomore Art Jackman, and Bud Leavitt. "Spike" Wallace, Jim Moodie, Bill Longridge, and Bob Driscoll were the big guns in the backfield.

Cheerleaders

The success of a cheering section depends to a very great extent on the performance of the cheerleaders. North's cheering sections have been very successful.

The reasons for the pep and unity among North's followers are eight: Pearl Rogers, Corrinne Le Blanc, Virginia Gleason, Shirley Wallace, Sally Black, Jackie Le Bert, Ted Walters, and Frank Tibbetts. These clever leaders, under the direction of Mr. Harold Forrest, put on a show that rivaled the athletic contests themselves. The tumbling acts, so thoroughly enjoyed between the halves of the football games, were always accomplished with skill and eclat. Winning or losing, the North followers were always solidly behind their team, and this solidarity can be traced directly to the sparkling leadership of these eight pepsters. Football games, basketball games, and student pep meetings were always enlivened and made more enjoyable by the antics of the girls and boys who directed the noise.

Cross-Country

Under the able coaching of Physical Education Director Laroy C. Rogers, North Quincy High was again welcomed back to the field of cross-country. competition. Although the group reporting last fall for this arduous out-door activity was small, the boys interested made an excellent showing. Because of this numerical inferiority, the team as a whole had difficulty but the individual runners showed well throughout the season. Captain Eddie Johnston won every race but one and Don Koslow stayed close to his leader to land second place in all but one meet.

With the nucleus formed last fall, Coach Rogers is looking forward to the coming season with considerable optimism.

The record:

North	46	Milton	23
North	29	Weymouth	26
North	30	Quincy	25
North	28	Rockland	27

Basketball

The North Quincy basketball team of 1941–42, with Bob Johnson the only veteran from last year's quintet, emerged from a 13–game schedule with a record of six wins and seven losses. Phil Conroy, Dick Gallagher, Jim Moody, Walter Montgomery, Bob Mansfield, Ernie Reynolds, Buster Seager, Bob Driscoll, and Russ Frizzell joined with Johnson to comprise the squad. As usual, Mentor John Mullarkey's hoopmen played a hard, driving game, and five of their seven set-backs came in the final minutes of play and by a mere two or three points. Double victories were scored over Plymouth and Quincy Trade; an even split was gained in the 2-game series with Weymouth, and the Red and Black captured the lone encounter with Abington. Quincy, arch rival, eked out two narrow wins over the boys from the north-end institution, and the remaining defeats were at the hands of powerful Rockland and Braintree, both Tech Tournament choices.

Rifle Club

The Rifle Club, under the supervision of Mr. Harry Beede, has been very active during the past school year. Two boys' teams, senior and junior, have been active, and a girls' team has shown marked increase in membership and interest.

The boys' senior team has had matches with many outside groups—scoring victories over Quincy, Braintree, and Melrose, and tying Malden as well as strong Northeastern University Freshmen.

Officers for the past year included Frank Parker, president, and Betty Hall, secretary-treasurer. Among those active in the Rifle Club were Russell Smallman, Victor Tose, Frank Parker, Stanley Henderson, Herbert Jacques, Warren Clark, Chandler Robbins, Lincoln Pratt, Roger Josselyn, and Richard Rowles. Girls prominent were Gwendolyn Bowes, Betty Hall, Pearl Grant, Jean Chase, Lois Wilson, Rosemary Gilbert, Shirley Knight, Christine Johnson' Audrey Williams, and Betty Pickles.

Baseball

Under the direction of Coach Hal Forrest the baseball team squared off for a hectic 1942 season. Hectic, indeed, was this season because with the call for youth in both the armed forces and defense work depleting the playing strength new faces appeared regularly in the line-up. Such worthies as Spike Wallace, Paul O'Brien and Dud Carroll were among the first to leave and the absence of these first-stringers hurt not a little. Outstanding in the games played up to the time of our going to press were John White, ace pitcher, Bud Leavitt, Phil Conroy, Cal Frazer, Jack Cahill, Jack Gallagher, John McGue, and Bob Driscoll.

The 1942 schedules:

		North	Opponent
April 28	*Milton	3	7
May 1	Weymouth	11	8

Golf

Although gas rationing as well as the shortage of balls threatened to disrupt the entire golf picture, the North team, coached by Mr. John Donahue, managed to play through the entire South Shore League schedule with highly satisfactory results.

Leading shot-makers were Joe and Dick Meehan, William Barry, Joe Kendrick, Lawrence and George Reid, and Bill Mattern.

The 1942 schedule:

		North	Opponent
April 27	Needham	3½	5½
30	Walpole	8½	½
May 4	Norwood	9	0
7	*Norwood	9	0
11	Hingham	7½	1½

Tennis

The North tennis team, under the direction of Mr. Joseph G. Foy, had a very successful though abbreviated 1942 season. The netsters, South Shore League Champions of 1941, confidently expected to duplicate last year's performance, but, with war rationing eliminating the manufacture of tennis balls, only eight matches were played.

Bud O'Connell and John Graham, who were expected to finish their court careers in a blaze of glory, left school early and were unable to play at all. Phil Hirtle was also on the sidelines. Yet the remaining netsters more than held their own against the South Shore teams played. Heading the regular players were George Henry, John Frye, Bob Thompson, Eugene Kelly, and John McAdam.

It is hoped that with the coming of another spring the usual large number of candidates will find adequate facilities awaiting them in order that this popular sport will continue to satisfy many North students.

Riding Club

Horseback riding is another sports activity which has many enthusiastic followers here at North. This sport is sponsored by Miss Frances Allbright while Judith Stoyle is head of the club and has charge of the financial well-being of the activity. The club rides once a week, on Friday, when the mixed class goes up to the Ferguson stables to enjoy a pleasant afternoon trotting through the Blue Hills. In the spring and fall a gymkhana is held in which the members of the club participate in many thrilling feats of horsemanship.

The management at Ferguson's have given the North students souvenirs as mementoes of their many afternoons spent learning how to post, canter, and gallop along the bridle paths of the Blue Hills.

Class History

THE FINAL REVIEW OF '42

1937

In the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred thirty seven, there descended upon old North Quincy High, a horde of small squealing children who were destined to affect greatly the future of our Alma Mater and bring it recognition of one kind or another. Yes, we were that motley group and we swelled with pride to be charter members of so august a body of students, and to be guided for the most part by so distinguished a faculty. We gazed open-eyed at the seniors, the audiophone system, the shops and labs, and lived only for the auditorium and club periods. There were sports of all kinds and other numerous school activities that pleased us greatly, but we also became acquainted with a new institution called the detention slip. However, the boys continued to saw their wrists and bevel their thumb nails; the girls continued to drop their stitches, and our first taste of high school slipped by quickly.

1938

When we reached the eighth grade, we at least knew where to go for each period, and were happy to find that there were younger seekers of knowledge than ourselves in the building. So, we proceeded to look down upon them, but in some cases condescended to show them the ropes and to instruct them quietly what teachers to beware of. We sliced up reams of periodicals for history notebooks, and wrote and delivered page after page of material for Group Conferences which impressed no one and which we ourselves immediately forgot. We were afflicted with a slight taste of algebra toward the end of the year, but slight as it was, it bewildered most of us. We battled our way through it somehow, though, and soon forgot our labor in the joys of the Junior Carnival. In June, as was the custom, we noisily and unsuspectingly passed on to new and uncharted seas of knowledge.

1939

Upon reaching grade nine, we got our first real taste of high school and homework. At this point we discovered whether our course had been selected wisely or not. We found ourselves saddled with algebra, Latin, and economic civics. In this subject, we learned that a married man with six children absolutely cannot live on an income of five dollars per week,—unless his relatives are affluent. We all knew Engle's Law of Family Expenditure by heart—I wonder how many can remember it now. The fact that we had courses separated us forever from the younger generation, perhaps not in the eyes of the solemn seniors, but we felt more important anyhow. We assumed a sort of protectorate over the whole junior high school and subdued them when needed by bursts of what we assumed to be Latin. Most of us got through the year somehow and breathed easier when it was over. The pains of our labors were deadened however by a real prom like the seniors', and finally, on the twenty-second day of June our proud parents crowded the auditorium to capacity and saw the boys, in blue coats and white flannels, and the girls in white dresses, step up and receiv the printed card signifying the satisfactory completion of the course.

1940

At last we found ourselves accepted as full fledged but slightly plucked members of the senior high school. Although we were puffed with pride, we were still nonentities to the seniors. Some of us stuck to Latin but only survived the pains of Caesar's differences of opinion with certain people in Gaul through the thought of the five points to be gained. Others pounded out meaningless phrases on the typewriters to the detriment of the instruments. It was in this memorable year that we first tasted the agonies of a modern language, and the halls echoed to the guttural grunts of the erstwhile Germans and the nasal honking of the would be French. Some were also initiated into the mysteries of plane geometry while others delved deep into the intricacies of bookkeeping. This year slipped quietly by and before we realized it we were well on our way to becoming the Junior Class.

1941

Our entrance as the Junior Class was unheralded but we now hoped to reap the rewards, questionable as they might be, of our four year struggle. We were, by this time, considered as "near equals" to the seniors by everyone but the seniors themselves, and we even had a class organization and government similar to that of "The Most High." We who continued French studies remember the cold, clammy dread which clutched our hearts as we entered the sacred portals and quietly laid down our books in preparation for the quarterly exams. We suffered through logarithms and the binomial theorem, and the unfortunates who continued Latin discovered too late that there were even greater bores than Caesar, and no doubt when we win this war would gladly give Rome back to the Romans. The typewriters continued to take a beating but stood up well under the strain. The unsuspecting who signed up for chemistry soon discovered that water was not water but a compound, one of whose components had but one planetary electron. Although the lab was a practical joker's paradise, we soon found out that the work we faced there was no joke. While the more studious submitted the infinite number of experiments and written papers on time, many of us, as usual, waited until the eleventh hour. The social activities were many and successful this year and many romances blossomed forth, others just blossomed. Although there was much excitement over the war and invasions in Europe, it didn't prevent the class from entering the celestial state known as seniors.

1942

September fourth dawned glorious and immortal as we passed into the school as the Senior Class. We felt a lot older than we looked as we took our places in our last homerooms weighted down with our own importance and the duties ahead. These who, without the advice of their attorneys, selected physics and trigonometry, staggered about looking like aristocrats expecting a tumbril, and many of us were in it before long. The war and the vicious attack upon Pearl Harbor on December seventh was the principal topic of conversation for weeks. The declaration of war provided us with temporary relief from our studies as the school embarked upon an extensive program of air raid drills which somehow came too often in study periods. In April, and again in May, good fortune befell us in the form of rationing. This allowed us to be released at noon and provided another welcome break in the study routine. Remember also the joy with which we accepted that double Christmas vacation! In May some of our fellow students were released to take positions awaiting them but returned in due time to be graduated with us. In years to come, some of us will still hear the swing quartet as they "beat it out" in the auditorium during our lunch period. Photographs of the "old gang" were received and exchanged with either a snicker or a sigh, the yearbook was painfully assembled, we marched, chugged to the prom on three gallons of gas, and then stepped out into the world with a sincere determination to become a credit to old North Quincy High in whatever field of endeavor we might enter.

Class Poetry

COMPUNCTION

Last night my bed was freshly made;
The sheets were clean and cool and white;
They did not seem great luxury—last night.
Today I saw a picture black
That shocked my inmost soul,
A picture of a child, a Pole,
With bloated trunk and spindleleg
And staring eyes that silent beg—
Thrown lifeless back on famine's track.
That frozen face returns to mock
Me and my spirit seems to balk
At the indulgence of clean sheets—tonight.

HARBOR FOG

The fog gropes with its gray fingers through the night,
And smothers all the harbor with a dank and dismal blight.
The drowsy swells of the oily sea surge listless toward their goal
While a lone bell buoy sways gently and clangs its monotonous toil.

Tom Williamson

SILVERLEAF

A slender plant with small, round leaves
Was growing in the grass.
It was not tall, nor brightly hued
Thus, many by it pass'd.

But once I stopped and took a piece—
A dainty little frond—
And running down the road a way
I dipped it in the pond.

Lo! It seemed the moon had shaken
It with shining dust
That shimmered with each tiny wave
Like some strange, silv'ry rust.

Then, meditating on the ways
Of this dull, dreary world,
It seemed to me that drab outsides
Hid something not unfurled.

I think that if, in people's souls
I took one peek so brief,
I'd find in them great beauty
Like the transformed silverleaf.

Class Will

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1942 of the North Quincy High School, in the City of Quincy, County of Norfolk, and State of Massachusetts.

Be it remembered, that we, the graduating class of the North Quincy High School, City of Quincy, State of Massachusetts and Squantum combined, being of partly sound mind, and having for years observed our indescribable faculty, students, and customs of our beloved institution, do hereby declare this, our last will and testament.

ARTICLE 1

We, the yardbirds of Fort North Quincy, do hereby give and bequeath to "General" James S. Collins, our sincerest thanks and appreciation for having commanded our "regiment" so successfully during our six year tour of duty.

ARTICLE 2

We give and bequeath to "Major General" Frank E. MacDonald, of the Military Police, a new set of binoculars to enable him to detect "smoke signals" from the "enemy" within sight of the camp.

ARTICLE 3

We give and bequeath to "Captain" Sylvia, of the Intelligence Service, one Winchester high-powered rifle, equipped with an extra long bayonet; the bayonet to enable him to pick up papers more easily, the rifle to act as a reminder to our "draftees" not to sit on the parade grounds in front of the camp during noon-time "mess."

ARTICLE 4

We give and bequeath to "Lieutenant" Melvin C. Jack, of the Espionage Department, a super deluxe periscope, so that he might look around corners and spot all those A. W. O. L. from their respective classes.

ARTICLE 5

We give and bequeath to "Major" Donahue, full charge of our Camouflage Department, in tent 329, so that his Commandos might reach their "goals" undetected.

ARTICLE 6

and bequeath to "Colonel" Bridges, of the Air Raid Depart-ith a built-in whistle and a worn-out cannister to be used nd drills.

ARTICLE 7

We give and bequeath to "Corporal" Smoyer, of the infantry, a recording of the Volga Boatman, to provide a musical background for his slow but sure marches through the passage ways of our camp.

ARTICLE 8

We give and bequeath to "Private" Laroy Rogers a first class firing squad to be used on these certain "yardbirds" who insist on taking a column left when the command is to the rear march.

ARTICLE 9

We give and bequeath to Miss Parker and Miss Gooch of the U. S. O. one tank to be used by them during the passing periods in order that they might return to tents 311 and 313 in safety.

ARTICLE 10

We give and bequeath to 2nd Lieutenant Christman, a priority order for twenty-five pairs of pants that will really and truly fit our "marching cadets"

ARTICLE 11

We give and bequeath to Mess Sergeant Berry of our camp kitchen, a bomb-proof, fire-proof, burglar-proof, water-proof safe to insure the third lunch battalion of receiving their quota of food.

ARTICLE 12

We give and bequeath to Lieutenant-Colonel French of our Chemical Warfare Department, one large sized bottle of iron glue, to be used in putting back the fingers of all those Buck privates who insist in sticking them into the concentrated Nitric Acid.

ARTICLE 13

We give and bequeath to the incoming class of '43 all the rights, privileges, and fun pertaining to the senior class of North Quincy High School, together with one large burlap bag in which to put all the new seventh graders, at least until they become big enough to be seen.

Therefore, we, the class of 1942, the party of the first part, do hereby set our seal to this our Last Will and Testament on this the Tenth day of June, 1942.

KENNETH ROONEY

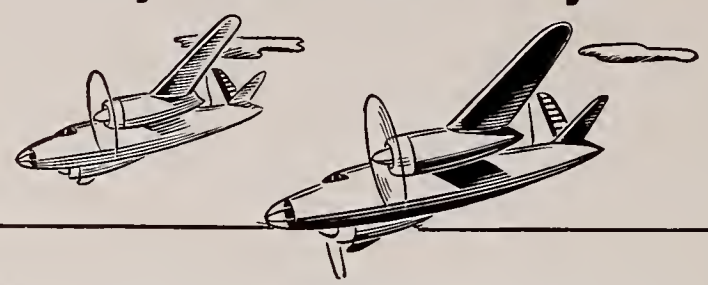
Our Business Friends

"I'm joining the army behind the Army!"



GIRLS may not qualify as bomber pilots, but they can learn to make their fingers fly over their typewriters. Being a good secretary is a worthy contribution to victory.

Katharine Gibbs training is the choice of ambitious young women planning for a business career or for a war emergency job. Employers last year asked us for 5350 Gibbs secretaries.

- TWO YEAR COURSE—combining college subjects and secretarial training (starts September 22).
- ONE YEAR COURSE—intensive technical training (starts July 6 and September 22).

Placement service without charge. Residences in Boston and New York. For illustrated catalog address Entrance Committee.

What can I do to help?

Thumb-twiddling is out, but definitely! And you can sock-knit and U.S.O. in your spare time. But if you are really keen to help keep things rolling . . . prepare yourself for a job. That's truly stars-and-stripes!

Uncle Sam and the Busy B's (Big Business) will need trained minds and hands for quite a while to come. And smart girls, "making haste slowly," are taking time to obtain the best business training they can find.

Many 1942 graduates are choosing Fisher School for their career-preparation. This thorough secretarial training, built around individual abilities and interests, gives you what it takes to get and hold a permanent, well-paid position. One-Year Intensive and Two-Year Comprehensive courses emphasize background-building as well as mastery of technical skills. More than 1500 calls for Fisher graduates last year! Call or write for catalog.

Two convenient locations: BOSTON, 118 Beacon St.; SOMERVILLE, 374 Broadway

A MAN IS KNOWN . . .

by the company he keeps.

In so far as the printing of college annuals is concerned, this bit of wisdom might be re-worded "A Company Is Known by the Clients It Keeps."

We are proud of the Annuals we continue to publish year after year. This patronage, we believe, reflects our ability to produce fine letter press printing, otherwise we would not be entrusted with such responsibility.
